Dear College Students:

The US Nuclear Energy Foundation is producing the Yucca Educational Symposium (YES). Many individual groups and citizens have come to the realization that the Yucca Mountain nuclear repository has been misrepresented for many years to the public. Nevadans believe this is caused by: biased political statements and slanted media reports about the facility; rather than non-biased factual, educational information. Our mission is focused on the grassroots public and YOU students are our future representatives. This is an important program and because we feel your attendance is important we are offering all NV College Students a free pass with student ID. (At the same time it would be extremely helpful if you could support our mission with a $15 donation) You must return your Name, school attending, phone # and email address to our direct email @ comments@usnuclearwnergy.org. We will put you on the Student Check list in our Excel database at registration; our wristbands will provide access to the entire symposium.

Our speakers include, Congressman Mark Amodei, and John Shimkus (IL) Jack Spencer, Director, Roe Institute, Heritage Foundation, Robert F. Edmonds, Jr., Director, Business Development for AREVA Federal Services, Bruce Marlow, Vice President, AREVA, Dr. Nicholas Tsoulfanidis, editor, Nuclear Technology Magazine, Dr. Dennis Moltz, Nye County Commissioner Dan Schinhofen, Gary Hollis, Nye County, & USNEF moderator: Gary Duarte. The symposium will begin with opening remarks by Congressman Amodei and a welcoming video featuring Senator Jim DeMint, Heritage Foundation President.

It is a travesty that our state bureaucracy has not recognized the value Nevada will provide to the American public by allowing for the completion of the Yucca facility safety report and ultimately, opening the repository. The YES event will give you and the general public the opportunity to for a better understanding of this valuable Nevada resource.

We look forward to your presence at “YES” the Yucca Educational Symposium.
